GRANGERS LEAD IN AN ADVANCE. TREATMENT OF THE INSANE. Meeting of the Association of Medical Supe

erable Business in the Stock Market INTERMSTING PAPER READ BY DR. STRARYS, THE BRYING PRESIDENT-FELICITOUS REMARKS OF DR. CLARE, THE MEW PRESIDING OFFICER-

PROGRAM FOR THE CONVENTION. The Association of Medical Superintenden of American Institutions for the Insane is now in annual session in this city. The first meeting was held this morning in one of the large assembly rooms of the Arlington, and in the neighborhood of fifty physicians who are actively interested in the care and treatment of the insane were present when the meeting was called to order. Once a year they meet to listen to papers, share in discussions and compare methods of work. Naturally these meetings are of great interest and value. WHEN ORGANIZED.

The association was organized in 1844 and since that time has had a most prosperous career. It numbers among its membership almost all of the leading brain specialists of the country. Dr. Curwen of Warren, Pa., is the secretary of the association and has been since 1858. He is likely to keep on being the secretary for an indefinite time to come. CALLED TO ORDER BY PRESIDENT STEARNS.

It was 10:30 o'clock when President H. P Stearns, M. D., rose and spoke the simple phrase, "The association will please come to order." This was the formal opening of the meetings of the association. He then introduced Dr. J. M. Tonor of this city, who made a pleasant little address of welcome, in the course of which he said:

DR. TONER'S WELCOME. "I esteem it," said Dr. Toner, "s privilege and an honor in behalf of the medical profes-sion and I may add the citizens of the District sion and I may add the citizens of the District of Columbia to welcome your old and distinguished National Association, and to assure you how gratifying it is to us to have you hold your annual meeting in this city. The nation's capital is and of right ought to be the favorite city of America, where the people from all parts of the republic may assemble in conventions and where the beneficient organizations of a national character may convene at their pleasure to confer for their common good and to enlarge the sphere of their usefulness."

After paying tribute to the chemist and the benefits his studies and labors had conferred on mankind, Dr. Toner continued:

"We wish you to feel that when we welcome you to our city homes, in a national and patriotic sense, it is your own—the people's city—and that the medical profession of Washington receives and will treat you as brothers. We are confident that while your association are discussing the manifold diseases of the brain and comparing results of treatment and the management of institutions for the insane general medicine will at the same time be benefited. The millenium has not been reached in medicine. There is ample room for advancement in every branch of it, and each is inviting the earnest and capable laborer to enter and glean honors. Mountains of unappropriated laurels remain to adorn the brows of the fortunate physicians who may in the least improve the art and science of medicine, or add aught to our knowledge of the means for restoring health to the afflicted. The occasion and the audience are inspiring, but I shall conclude, for I am sure you are impatient to proceed to the program of business arranged for your meeting, and as a parting word repeat that the medical gentlemen of the city have instructed me to extend to each member individually and to your honored association as a body a most hearty welcome, and express the hope that the fruits of the meeting may fully realize your expectations."

will be made of St. Elizabeth's. Tomorrow afternoon the association will make a special trip to Mount Vernon on the Macalester.

Dr. Godding introduced ex-Surgeon General Moore of the army and asked that the privileges of visiting members be extended to him. Dr. Edwards, Dr. L. H. Prince, Dr. A. C. Davis, Dr. Westcott, Dr. Gordon, Dr. Wagner and Dr. Witmer were also introduced and the same courtesies extended to them.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED. After the reading of several letters by the After the reading of several letters by the secretary the president read the announcement of his nominations for committees. These were as follows: On nomination of officers, Dr. John B. Chapin, Dr. T. W. Fisher, Dr. Benj. Blackford; on time and place of next meeting, Dr. George C. Palmer, Dr. Walter Channing, Dr. S. B. Lyon; on auditing bills, Dr. Charles G. Hill, Dr. W. A. Gordon, Dr. H. A. Hutchinson; on resolutions, Dr. P. Bryce, Dr. C. K. Clark and Dr. C. W. Pilgrim.

At this point in the proceedings a recess of fifteen minutes was taken while the members placed their names down on the register.

rether fond of whisky. To the surprise of his friends he joined a total abstinence society one Friday evening. Saturday he was found drunk. "Ah. Sandy. I thought you were a tectotaler?" "And so I am, but I am not bigoted."

Dr. Clark said he realized the dignity and importance of his office and trusted that his fellow members would never hesitate to call him to order if they thought he was not doing his duty as he should.

After a vote of thanks to the retiring president for the abla and impartial manner in which he had filled his office, as well as for the valuable paper he read this morning, the meeting adjourned.

THE LOTTERY CASES. Briefs Filed in the United States St

constitutionality of the law prohibiting the mailing of newspapers containing lottery ad-vertisements, were filed with the Supreme court yesterday. The brief of the defendants contends that the power vested in Congress to establish post offices and post roads is limited by the first amendment forbidding abridgment of speech or of the press; that the anti-iottery act abridges this freedom of the press and is ment of the constitutional right of the people to keep and bear arms.

It is contended the act is entirely within the constitutional power of Congress to establish and regulate the postal system. Congress might absolutely exclude newspapers from the mails, but that would not constitute an abridgment of the liberty of the press.

"The whole subject is eafe in the hands of the people," says the brief, "and they will be quick enough to take alarm at the first appresson of this new sentinel of liberty, the Louisiana Lottery Company."

Who Stole the Atterney General's Brief?
The question "Who stole the Atterney General's brief in the Seyward case?" has not yet been answered, but the authorities at the government printing office have come to the conclusion that none of the employes of that institution proved faithless to their trust. A careful investigation is being made, but so far there has not been an jots of testimony inculpating any of Public Printer Pulmer's subordinates. Most of the evidence is negative in its nature, simply preving that the breach of confidence cannot be charged up to the printing office.

RECEIVED THIS AFTERNOON. The Report of the District Attorney at New

The report of the district attorney at New Orleans to the Department of Justice in regard to the lynching of the Italians, which was said o have been mailed last Sunday, was received by the Attorney General this afternoon. The Attorney General remarked to a STAR reporter that he does not intend to make the report public until he has reed and considered it theroughly and has gone over it with Secre-tary Blaine, who must have a look at it before the newspapers get it. "Even then," he added, "it may be determined to hold it secret until the President returns."

This depends largely upon the nature of the report and the importance of its bearing upon the international question now pending between Italy and the United States regarding the allegiance of the men who were slain by the New Orleans mob.

Drs. Shadd and Elbert dressed the wound. The patient spent a restless night, but was resting easier this morning.

A search was made for Jones last night and the officers succeeded in locating him, but when they reached the house the lights were extinguished and he escaped. The other men were arrested by Policeman Dowling and they will be taken to court tomorrow.

ABOUT BUILDING PROJECTIONS. The Commissioners' Power Over Them

Assistant Attorney Thomas' Opinton. Several days ago the Commissioners sent a letter to the attorney asking an opinion on the question whether under the law requiring all projections of buildings in the streets and avenues of the city beyond the building line the Commissioners and the Secretary of War may make a set of regulations covering all the requirements they may deem necessary and authorize the inspector of buildings to issue permits according thereto without their being required to sign every one of the plans submitted.

rendered the opinion, saying: "The law, after ratifying the action of the Commissioners in granting permits for projections, proceeds: 'And hereafter no such permits shall be granted, except upon special application and with the concurrence of all said Commissioners and the Secretary of War.'

"Ny opin on is congress intended that both the Commissioners and the Secretary of War should personally supervise the granting of such permits, and that the duty cannot be delegated to the inspector of buildings by a set of regulations on the subject made by the Commissioners and approved by the Secretary of War. It is a matter for regret that the law is not capable of a different construction, since it is manifest a condition of things might arise which would operate to retard if not in some cases to suspend building operations. The stention of Congress should be called to the inconvenience produced by this law." "The law, after ratifying the action of the
